

TRANSITION SERVICES

EDUCATION. EMPLOYMENT. INDEPENDENCE.

Inclusive Post-secondary Education

Inclusive post-secondary education (IPSE) is a college program that includes people with intellectual and developmental disabilities who might not otherwise get to have a college experience. Students in IPSE programs attend classes and may live in dorms with people who do not have intellectual disabilities. IPSE programs do not confer degrees, but some certifications are available. Check individual programs.

Where are the IPSE Programs in Georgia?

Albany Technical College

Berry College

Columbus State University

East Georgia State College

Georgia College and State University

Georgia Southern University

Georgia State University

Georgia Tech

Kennesaw State University

TRANSITION SERVICES

EDUCATION. EMPLOYMENT. INDEPENDENCE.

Paying for IPSE

IPSE Grants are a five-year pilot that pays for “standard undergraduate tuition” at public institutions only. The grants may pay for program or student fees, depending on funds available.

Applying for an IPSE Grant

Students can apply for IPSE Grants by one of two ways:

1. Complete the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA). The FAFSA must be completed every year to be eligible for IPSE Grants or federal funds like the Pell Grant. Or
2. Complete the online Georgia Student Finance Application (GSFAPP). The GSFAPP only needs to be fill out once every ten years in the state of Georgia.

For more information about IPSE Programs in Georgia, check out the Georgia Inclusive Post-secondary Education Consortium (GAIPSEC).

For more information about IPSE Programs in all over the country, check out Think College.

SCAN
ME! >>>

To access a digital copy of this document

If you would like to connect with the Transition Resource Specialist that supports your school, please consult the Locations list on the Transition Services website:
<https://www.cobbk12.org/page/38587/special-education-transition-services>