

About Me

This is Kristi Turner's 27th year in education. She taught English at Marietta High School before becoming a school counselor. She is now in her eighteenth year as a school counselor at Allatoona and twenty-sixth year in education.

Mrs. Turner is married to her husband Donald, and they have three sons, ranging in ages from middle school to college. She enjoys spending time with friends and family and attending all of the different activities her children are participating in.

Skills and Education

Bachelor of Science in English Education, University of Georgia

Master of Education in Guidance and Counseling, University of West Georgia