

PEBBLEBROOK

HIGH SCHOOL

ABOUT

Pebblebrook High School in Mableton is home to the Cobb County Center for Excellence in the Performing Arts (CCCEPA) — a magnet program whose a cappella ensemble Sonic Edge has won back-to-back national championships. The Falcons are just as strong in competition as on stage: boys basketball reached the 2026 Class 6A state championship game, the JROTC Color Guard won a state title in its first year competing together, and the football program made its debut in Georgia's marquee season-opening classic. Under Principal Dr. Dana Giles, Pebblebrook is a school where the arts, athletics, and career pathways all compete at an elite level.

MISSION

To serve our community by embracing cultural diversity and fostering relationships that create opportunities, build character, and promote success, leading to lifelong achievements

VISION

Inspiring life-long learners who will positively impact their communities

NATIONALLY RECOGNIZED PERFORMING ARTS

CCCEPA trains more than 340 students across dance, drama, musical theatre, vocal music, and technical theatre, with alumni credited in 67+ Broadway productions. The program's 2025 graduating class earned more than $7 million in scholarships.

FUTURE-READY PATHWAYS

Pebblebrook houses a STE(A)M Academy and career pathways including Audio-Video Technology/Film and Business & Technology. Through the REACH Georgia Scholarship, three Class of 2026 seniors earned up to $10,000 each toward college, and are headed to schools including Georgia Tech and Georgia State.

CHAMPIONSHIP ATHLETICS

Boys basketball finished as 2026 GHSA Class 6A state runner-up after beating rival Hillgrove to reach the final. In track and field, Junior Jonae' Holder earned double All-American honors at the 2026 USATF National Championships, placing 3rd in discus and 7th in hammer.

LEADERSHIP & WELL-BEING

Pebblebrook's all-female Army JROTC Color Guard won the Georgia State JROTC Drill Championship in 2026 — in its first year competing as a team. Principal Dr. Giles also launched Project Joy, a student-wellness initiative whose inaugural community walk drew 45 student participants.

The Parent Perspective

"My daughter found her voice in the performing arts program. This school treats every student like a headliner."

The Student Experience

"CCCEPA puts you on real stages. Winning nationals with Sonic Edge showed me this school can compete with anybody in the country."

From a national championship stage to a state championship court, Pebblebrook students keep proving that talent lives everywhere.

Our job is to open the doors they walk through.

Dr. Dana Giles, Principal
